League Committee Says Japan Invaded China, Will Ask Investigation

Sub-committee Says Japan's Action Belies Statement She Desires Peace with China—Acts out of Proportion.

WAR RELIEF

American Group in Shanghai Studies How Best to Spend $50,000 for Red Cross.

Geneva, Oct. 5 (AP)—The League of Nations today officially reported Japan violated treaties and invaded China, and the drafting committee agreed that signatories of the nine-power treaty, including the United States, should be invited at the earliest possible moment to examine the situation.

The sub-committee, reporting to the main committee, declared that Japan's military operations in China belie her contention that she wants friendly cooperation between the two nations.

"It is clear that the two countries take very different views as to the underlying grounds of the dispute and as to incidents which led to the first outbreak of hostilities," the sub-committee said. "It cannot, however, be challenged that the powerful Japanese armies have invaded Chinese territories and are in military control of large areas, including Peking itself; that the Japanese government has taken naval measures to close the coast to Chinese shipping; and that Japanese aircraft are carrying out bombardments over widely separated regions of the country."

The committee continued: "After examination of facts laid before it, the committee is bound to take the view that military operations are carried on by Japan against China by land, sea and air out of all proportion to incidents that occasioned the conflict; that such actions cannot possibly facilitate or promote the friendly cooperation between two nations; that Japanese statesmen have affirmed to be the basis of their policy; that it can be justified neither on the basis of existing legal instruments nor on that of the right of self-defense, and that it was in contravention of Japan's obligations under the nine-power treaty of February 6, 1922, and under the pact of Paris of August 27, 1923."

$50,000 For Relief
Shanghai, Oct. 5 (AP)—An American committee studied war relief problems today to decide how to spend $50,000 allocated to Shanghai from Red Cross funds.

Many missionaries in refuge here have volunteered in assisting other refugees and wounded soldiers.

The American Women's Club, the refugee missionaries and others were making sheets and bandages for distribution through the Lester Hospital and providing clothing and bedding for impoverished and homeless Chinese.

Deaths among Shanghai's 2,295,000 population have increased to 30 per cent with the accumulated total of 680 fatalities reported in the International Settlement and the French concession since the outbreak of the epidemic. There were 19 deaths among 32 cases among foreigners.

U. S. Marines Under Fire.
By JAMES A. MILLS.

Shanghai, Oct. 5 (AP)—United States marines were sprayed with shrapnel today and forced to evacuate their defense outposts along the northern boundary of the international settlement when Japanese warplanes rained bombs on one of China's largest, four miles just across the 40-year-old Szechow creek.

The Japanese warplanes from the air, a spokesman asserting that some 300 Chinese fighting craft had been destroyed in the three months of undeclared war. The Japanese drive to crack the Chinese defense positions in the Chapei sector was halted on land, however, and Chinese machine guns moved down Japanese marines like ten pins.

2 Men Are Given Prison Terms On Sex Crime Charges

In a short session of County Court Monday afternoon Judge Frederick G. Traver pronounced sentence upon two men indicted for sex crimes, both being sentenced to terms in Clinton Prison at Dannemora, one of them for a maximum term of 40 years.

Robert L. Hendrickson, 26, of High Falls, R. D., indicted for assault, was given a minimum term of four years and a maximum of eight years, after he had entered a plea of guilty. In sentencing Hendrickson Judge Traver said that a number of pleas had been made in his behalf, but inasmuch as Hendrickson had been charged with molesting a young girl, who was not known to him, on the public highway, striking her over the head with an iron instrument, then dragging her into a field and attempting to assault her, the only thing he was taking into consideration was the fact that he had pleaded guilty and saved the county the expense of a trial.

Hendrickson was arrested on August 24, when it was charged that he had accosted 16-year-old Ida Goldwasser of New York city, while she was walking along a road near Allgerville, struck her over the head with an iron bar and then attempted to criminally assault her.

The second man sentenced was George Andrew Decker, 65, of Platekill, who had been arrested August 23 on a charge of carnal abuse of a child. Decker pleaded guilty to a charge of sodomy. In presenting Decker for sentence District Attorney Cleon B. Murray stated that he was a second offender, had been previously sentenced to Sing Sing prison on a charge of attempted rape in the first degree and had been involved in at least three sex crimes. "Personally," said the district attorney, "I believe he is not a man to be at large."

Judge Traver sentenced Decker to Clinton Prison for a minimum term of 20 years and a maximum of 40 years.

STUDY RESULTS OF CONNECTICUT VOTING

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 5 (AP)—Party chieftains studied today the results of Connecticut small town elections which left Republicans in possession of the rural areas although Democrats came off victorious in Torrington for the first time and in other urban communities.

Voters followed tradition and put 100 of the 140-odd communities balloting for municipal offices in the Republican column, while about a dozen went Democratic as was the case in the last small town elections.

About a dozen towns which went Republican in the last municipal election swung to the Democratic banner yesterday. Republicans, on the other hand, gained only half that number from the Democratic control.

Torrington, Bristol and Norwalk were the only cities balloting in the first general election since President Roosevelt and Gov. Wilbur L. Cross swept through the state with 100,000 vote pluralities.

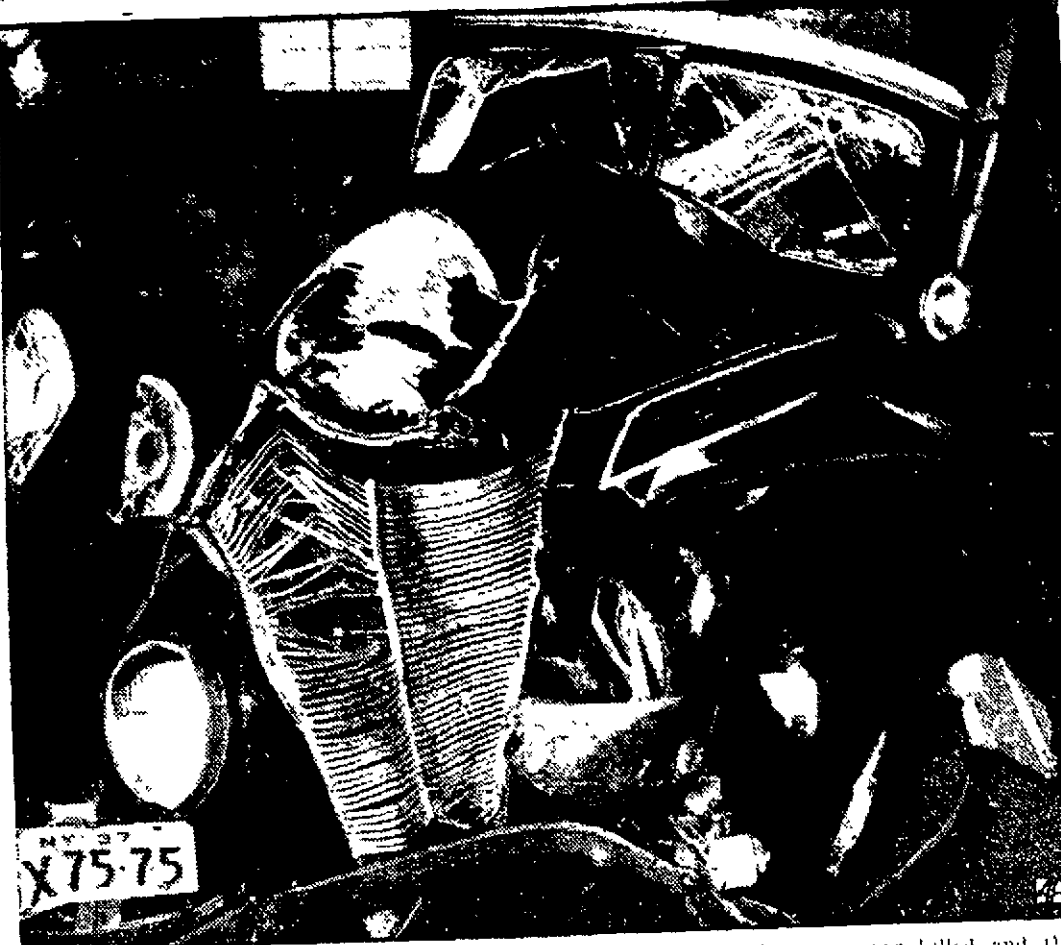

It was the first time since the town and city of Norwalk were consolidated in 1913 that Democrats carried all five wards.

Democratic gains for the Republican column were recorded in Wallingford, Brooklyn, Cornwall, East Haddam, Danbury, Killingworth, Haddam, Malborough and Thompson.

Switching to the Republican ranks were Anover, Beacon Falls, Canterbury, East Haven and Stamford.

Several of the state's largest cities were in the midst of campaigns while between 30 and 40 per cent of the state's electorate chose municipal officials yesterday.

WRECK FATAL TO SON OF MAINE GOVERNOR

Robert Barrows, 21-year-old son of Maine's Governor, Lewis O. Barrows, was killed and three other Williams College students were seriously injured when their auto turned over between Lenox and Pittsfield, Mass., October 3. The students were returning to Williams from New York where they had attended the Columbia-Williams football game. This picture shows the battered wreck of the auto in which they were riding.

Roosevelt Tells Labor He Hopes Conference Will Be Constructive

Supreme Court Starts Secret Study Of Numerous Pleas

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Supreme Court began today its secret consideration of more than 400 petitions, including two challenges to the right of Associate Justice Hugo L. Black to remain on the bench.

The conference, held in a closely guarded room at the rear of the court chamber, will continue Thursday and Saturday.

Observers expect the justices to announce next Monday whether they will consent to pass on questions raised as to the eligibility of their new colleague, who took his seat yesterday.

His challengers—neither of whom mentioned the controversy over Black's one-time Ku Klux Klan membership—are Albert R. W. Pitt, former federal judge in the Virgin Islands, and Patrick Henry Kelly, Irish-born Boston attorney.

They contend Black's appointment was unconstitutional because he voted for the bill giving retired justices full pay for life.

It was generally assumed that Black would not participate in consideration of the petitions affecting him.

After he marched into the chamber yesterday with the eight other justices, he listened gravely while Kelly and Levitt made their statements.

Kelly engaged in an exchange with Chief Justice Hughes which the latter ended abruptly by an order that the attorney sit down. He had attempted to make a motion without submitting it in written form.

Finally, Kelly sent to the clerk a memorandum in longhand saying he requested "a hearing on the title of Mr. Justice Black as a member of this court."

His Contentions.
Levitt, who previously had presented a printed motion, merely asked permission to file a petition requesting the court to order Black to show cause why he should be permitted to serve. Black's contentions was an assertion that the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter did not create a vacancy.

Denver, Oct. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt, in a message read to the American Federation of Labor's national convention here today, said he hoped the sessions will be "productive of constructive plans for the improvement of conditions and for cooperation to this end of workers, management and public."

"It is reported to me that employment and payrolls have increased greatly in the past year," the message said.

"Continued operation among workers and management will serve to consolidate these substantial gains and enable us to go on to greater prosperity and to better standards of living."

"I wish much that I could come to the convention, but as you know, I find it necessary to start my return to the east."

Would Disband NLRB

Denver, Oct. 5 (AP)—A fiery resolution introduced at the American Federation of Labor Convention by the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union today called upon President Roosevelt to disband the National Labor Relations board because, it said, the board is "actively supporting and upholding" the C.I.O.

The resolution, which A.F.L. leaders said echoed sentiment of the federation as a whole, was sent to the resolutions committee of the convention, which opened here yesterday.

The resolution asked Mr. Roosevelt, Congress and Secretary of Labor Perkins to discharge the labor board's employees because board personnel is "selected, dictated, controlled and supervised by the C.I.O." headed by John L. Lewis.

William Green, A.F.L. president, called upon the federation yesterday to expel Lewis and his 10 "traitor" unions.

"The hour is here," he said in a speech opening the convention, "having appealed to them for two years to come back, you will now order your board of directors to revoke the charters of this dual movement."

More fireworks were in the air, meanwhile, as the time neared for the Labor Board, to address the board personnel is "selected, dictated, controlled and supervised by the C.I.O." headed by John L. Lewis.

It is its report to the convention, the Federation's Executive Council said the board had given the public good grounds to believe it was "decidedly pro-C.I.O." but added that some of the criticism directed at the board was "only natural against a government board which has been functioning such a short time and under such serious handicaps."

Passports to China Ordered Invalidated

Tokyo, Oct. 5 (AP)—C. R. Cameron, United States consul general, said today that the State Department had authorized invalidation of all American passports so far as entrance to China was concerned.

The order, issued September 18, he said, was mandatory regarding the passports of women and children but urgent cases might be referred to Washington where the State Department might authorize entry into the war-stricken country.

In case of men, Cameron went on, the consulates were authorized to decide on the urgency of the requests themselves.

Americans arriving from Kobe at Shanghai yesterday complained that United States consular officials had prevented 20 men, women and children from returning to Shanghai.

Veterans' Night Is Held by Masons, Five Men Honored

Monday was Veterans' Night at Rondout Lodge, No. 343, Free and Accepted Masons, when five members of the lodge who had been raised Master Masons 40 or more years ago were honored.

The five Masons honored by the lodge as 40 year Masons were Louis B. Bastien, who was raised in 1882; Frederick Balzer, 1893; Fred H. Freeman in 1897; Alex. C. McKown in 1899, and Harry S. McKeown, who became affiliated with the local lodge in 1911. There were several other veteran Masons of 40 or more years who were unable to attend the ceremonies last evening.

The veterans were escorted to the lodge room where they were welcomed by Master Donald H. Schoonmaker, and District Deputy Scott M. Elize, of the Green-Cluster Masonic District, was introduced as the guest speaker of the evening.

First Visit

The district deputy was paying his first visit to the local lodge in order to pay honor to the 40 year members. He will pay his official visit to the lodge early next year.

The district deputy congratulated the veterans on their long years of activity in the Masonic order, and said that their lives were an example for the younger Masons to follow. He spoke briefly on Masonic principles.

Following the reception to the veterans a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served. Rondout Lodge is also honored with several of its members having been Master Masons for over half a century or more were presented last year when they were presented with Masonic emblems. Those emblems are only presented to Master Masons who have been members of the order for 50, or more years.

The reception to the veterans last night was largely attended and the meeting proved one of the most impressive that has been held in some time by the lodge.

May Head a Studio

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—Mary Pickford says she "may head a studio" in Hollywood. Here to inspect a cosmetic factory, Miss Pickford said she would leave for the west coast in about three weeks. She refused to elaborate on future plans but added that "this cooperative venture would have nothing but headliners." She said she would go to New York today to join her husband, Buddy Rogers, orchestra leader and former motion picture actor.

If War Comes—'Storm Will Level All Human Beings in Vast Chaos,' Says President

Bruno, Son of Duce, And Crack Planes Flying for Franco

Rome, Oct. 5 (AP)—Fascist aviation circles disclosed today that Bruno Mussolini, 20-year-old son of Premier Benito Mussolini, accompanied by the flower of Italy's bombardment aviation, was in active service as a pilot for the insurgent armies in Spain.

The Italian premier's son and the crack squadron of 23 bombers which accompanied him to Spain was believed to have made their first raid on the capital of the Spanish government at Valencia.

The squadron is made up of Savoia Marchetti 79-type fast bombers, the best that Italy has—and the pilots include veterans of Marshal Italo Balbo's mass flight to Spain in 1926.

Reports from Sicily indicated that another detachment of Fascist volunteers had left for Spain to aid Franco. This, coupled with the departure of the crack bombing squadron including Duce's own son, was taken by diplomatic circles to mean one of two things:

Mussolini has determined to make a big effort to settle the Spanish civil war in favor of the insurgents before winter sets in. He has sent in more men in order to be in a better bargaining position with England and France if he finds it expedient to negotiate withdrawal of volunteers.

Considers Demands

Il Duce has under consideration a diplomatically worded Anglo-French note virtually demanding a conference to end volunteer aid to both Spanish factions under threat of having the French frontier opened to arms and munitions for the Valencia government.

Fascist circles in Rome heard reports of a large scale offensive to be unleashed by Franco October 18, an offensive that would be measurably strengthened by the new Italian aid.

Mussolini was learned to have sent 20-year-old Bruno to the Spanish Civil War with his blessing. Bruno generally is pointed out as one of the foremost exponents of his father's motto, "Live dangerously."

In connection with a recent exploit of Bruno's, Il Duce declared: "Bruno is an idealist and I let him do what he wants. In fact, I approve of it."

The crack Italian squadron is understood to have been stationed at a flying field near Seville, Spain, which brings them within easy bombing range of both Madrid and Valencia.

Young Mussolini is a veteran of the Italo-Ethiopian war and was awarded a medal for his work as a pilot in the drive against Addis Ababa. He was hailed as a hero by the Italians for his part in a raid that claimed 2,000 Ethiopian lives.

GROOM'S FATHER DIES, MARRIAGE GOES ON

New Albany, Ind., Oct. 5 (AP)—Death of the groom's father cast a gloom but failed yesterday to interrupt the marriage of William Arthur Sullivan, Yorkers, N. Y., and Miss Florence Louise Moser.

Four hours after William A. Sullivan, 55, insurance executive of Yorkers, died of a heart attack at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Emma Moser of Silver Springs, New Albany suburb, young Sullivan and Miss Moser were married at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Mary Sullivan, his sister, Ruth, and his father's sister, Mrs. Thomas Collins, witnessed the ceremony. The body of the elder Sullivan will be taken to Yorkers. He was a district manager for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

MURDERED COUPLE

Lewis' Hope, 19, (top) and Lewis' wife, Ethel, were found murdered in a parked automobile near the Grand Central Parkway in New York City October 3. Both had been shot twice, and the girl had been stabbed seven times on their foreheads. They were branded mystified by crude circles drawn with lipstick. They were to be married soon.

Woman Hurt, but Accident Was Not Reported to Sheriff

Reports to Sheriff Molyneux Monday afternoon that one or more persons had been injured in an automobile accident Sunday in Ulster county, although no such accident had been reported to his office, led to inquiries that brought out the fact that Mrs. Ethel Lane of Rosendale was in the Kingston hospital suffering from chest injuries and bruises about her face and body, received near Rosendale Sunday night.

Mrs. Lane was interviewed at the hospital by Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg and Brown and told the officers that she was injured when the truck in which she and her mother, Mrs. Edna Kram, of Rosendale, were riding went into the ditch and turned over on its side, near the bridge over the Rondout between Townsend and High Falls. The accident happened between 9 and 10 o'clock Sunday night and was caused, she said, by blinding headlights from another car. Alvin J. Busch, of 66 Newkirk avenue, Kingston, who was driving the truck, told the deputies that the truck skidded on the wet road, went into the ditch and turned over.

The two women, who were riding with Busch in the front seat, were thrown out. They were taken to their home in Rosendale and later the Conner ambulance was called and took Mrs. Lane to the hospital.

FIVE JAILED FOR ALLEGED CONTRIBUTION RACKET

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—Five men were locked up in police headquarters today in connection with an alleged racket through which, Police Captain John J. Leahy said, $100,000 in contributions were obtained since last spring in the name of New Jersey police and court officers.

The men were booked on charges of soliciting advertisements and obtaining money fraudulently. They identified themselves as Henry Freeman, 36, an editor of the Bronx; Walter Rogers, 35, a salesman; Ernest M. High, 29, a salesman of the Bronx; Frank Cordova, 27, a promoter, and Edward Corneiz, 35, a salesman, of Brooklyn.

The contributions were obtained, Captain Leahy said, chiefly from trucking companies and others likely to have business in New Jersey, and purported to be for a sick and death benefit for New Jersey police and court officers. In telephone conversations, Captain Leahy said, the speaker usually represented himself as "Captain Joseph J. Murphy of the New Jersey state police."

Chief Executive in Chicago Bitterly Arraigns Aggressor Nations Before Bar of World Opinion.

SEEKS PEACE

Calls Peace-loving Nations to Make Concerted Effort to Oppose War.

By HAROLD OLIVER.

Chicago, Oct. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt bitterly arraigned aggressor nations before the bar of world opinion today and called upon peace loving countries to join in a "concerted effort" to restore international tranquility.

Speaking out formally and aggressively on foreign affairs for the first time in months, but withholding any definite proposal for an international conference or invocation of peace pacts, he asserted bluntly, in dedicating this outer link bridge here:

"There must be positive endeavors to preserve peace."

He said America, determined to stay out of the war, would not remain aloof from these efforts, and, as if in reply to those who have been urging an American neutrality proclamation, declared: "The peace-loving nations must make a concerted effort in opposition to those violations of treaties and those ignorings of humane instincts which today are creating a state of international anarchy and instability from which there is no escape through mere isolation or neutrality."

Without mentioning any nations by name, it was clear that "definite" violations of agreements embraced the Sino-Japanese conflict, the Mediterranean submarine attacks, outside interference in the Spanish civil war, and possibly went as far back as the Japanese invasion of Manchuria and Italy's Ethiopian campaign.

Helms of Terror

He said the "present reign of terror" and international lawlessness "began a few years ago with the 'unjustified interference in the internal affairs of other nations or the invasion of alien territory in violation of treaties, and has now reached a stage where the very foundations of civilization are seriously threatened."

Speaking of more recent disorders, he continued: "Without a declaration of war and without warning or justification of any kind civilians, including women and children, are being ruthlessly murdered with bombs from the air."

"In times of so called peace, ships are being attacked and sunk by submarines without cause or notice."

"Nations are fomenting and taking sides in civil warfare in nations that have never done them harm."

"Nations claiming freedom for themselves deny it to others. 'Innocent peoples and nations are being cruelly sacrificed to greed for power and supremacy which is devoid of all sense of justice and humane consideration.'"

The President, near the end of the longest and most significant speech of his current coast-to-coast trip, asserted America was "determined to keep out of war, yet we cannot insure against the disastrous effects of war and the dangers of involvement."

"We are adopting such measures as will minimize our risk of involvement, but we cannot have complete protection in a world of disorder in which confidence and security have broken down."

At another point he said it was his determination to "pursue a policy of peace and to adopt every practicable measure to avoid involvement in war."

"No nation which refuses to exercise forbearance and to respect the freedom and rights of others can long remain strong and retain the confidence and respect of other nations," he asserted. "For those who have been advocating complete American isolation, the President had this to say: 'No Isolation Possible.'"

"There is a solidarity and interdependence about the modern world, both technically and morally, which makes it impossible for any nation completely to isolate itself from economic and political upheavals in the rest of the world, especially when such upheavals appear to be spreading and not declining."

"There can be no stability of peace either within nations or between nations except under laws and moral standards adhered to by all. International anarchy destroys every foundation for peace. It jeopardizes either the immediate or the future security of every nation, large or small. 'It is, therefore, a matter of vital interest and concern to the people of the United States that

At a meeting of the captains and division leaders last Friday afternoon Chairman Freer and Matthews announced the plan that is to be followed this year. There is to be a second meeting of all team captains and division leaders this week on Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Gov. Clinton Hotel when it is hoped most of the team captains will have their teams completely organized.

The local campaign will open Friday evening, October 15, and continue through to October 22.

The publicity committee under the direction of Roger H. Loughdan is busy at work developing further plans which will be completed within the next few days.

In addition to the city the other communities of the Kingston District include Hurley with W. W. TenEyck as chairman, High Falls with Hubert Smith as chairman, and Port Ewen with A. H. Short as chairman.

General Chairman E. A. Freer said today: "The Boy Scout movement has brought together in co-operation Catholics, Protestants, and Hebrews in their common effort toward high citizenship for the boys of each, and this in itself should commend the Boy Scout movement to every thinking citizen in the country."

Among the many endorsements that are being received at the council office commending the Boy Scout movement one from Senator Arthur H. Wicks is as follows: "As your campaign is about to get under way for the Ulster-Greene Council Boy Scouts of America, I should like to commend you and all those participating in the campaign for being engaged in one of the finest works ever undertaken by any one. The value of Scouting, with its molding of character cannot be over emphasized. I sincerely wish that this great work may be extended to take in a larger number of boys."

It was not put in place until the present time as the Board of Education was waiting until the building was finished. Residents and taxpayers of the town can now look forward to the dedication of the building in October.

America Plays Safe!

New York Cuts Death Toll
With Highway Pretzels

By The (AP) Feature Service

New York—"Pretzels" have cut down the crossing-crash toll on the maze of highways around New York City. Not real pretzels, of course, but welters of crossover roads, like this one on the Long Island parkway system. This is the most complicated of several that have been built near the city in the last few years.

Suck systems amount to switches. Cars are routed by signs to lanes that lead to intersecting roads. These lanes pass over or under main highways and take the car out on different roads so that a driver never has to face the hazard of cross-currents of traffic.

SAFETY WORKERS USE
CAJOLERY AND CLUBS

Psychology and punishment are both being used throughout America in the campaign to end reckless driving. Local conditions often dictate the course police adopt.

In Atlanta, the effort has centered on preventing deaths. When someone has been killed by a car a black flag is hoisted at a downtown intersection.

There it flies for 24 hours as a reminder to all. If there are no accidents, a white flag bearing a green cross is hoisted in thankfulness.

NO "OFF YEAR"
Friday and Saturday of this week are the first two days of registration in the city and local residents of voting age should not neglect the important duty of registering at the earliest possible time. Unless you register you cannot vote and the right of franchise is the most important privilege any citizen of the United States possesses.
This year's election is of vital importance to the residents of the city for in November they will go to the polls and select the men, whom they believe are best fitted to handle the city's business for the ensuing two years.

The Republican party is a party of achievement. In both county and city government the records speak for themselves. Voters should not fail to register for the November election and then on election day see to it that the city and county retain the successful Republican government.

Besides the offices to be filled there will also be 15 delegates from the state at large and three from each of the 51 state senatorial districts elected to the 1938 constitutional convention.

In addition to the above there will be seven referenda on the ballot, as follows:
To authorize a state bond issue of $40,000,000 for emergency relief.
To amend the constitution to provide for four-year term for governor and lieutenant governor.
To amend the constitution to provide two-year term for members of assembly.

To amend the constitution to permit defendants in criminal actions to waive jury trial, except in capital cases.
To amend the constitution to permit sheriffs to succeed themselves in office.

Two proposed amendments to the constitution affecting the powers and jurisdiction of courts in New York city.
The election this fall is far from being an "off year". In order to cast your vote on these important matters, it is first necessary to register.

CALM JURYWOMEN

Women are now serving on juries in New York, and there is much interest in their verdicts. If they are like women in the states where they have been doing jury duty for some time, there will be no startling upsets in the routine of justice.
The first divorce case tried by women seems to have been decided contrary to the emotions of the female jurors. The verdict declared that the wife had been unfaithful, as charged by the husband. Afterwards the jury women explained that the wife "was a sweet little thing" but "we had nothing to go by" because she failed to produce character witnesses to testify in her behalf. "She should have had some nice people come in and testify for her," said one housewife juror.
Jurors, men or women, make mistakes sometimes, though probably no more than judges and lawyers. It has been interesting to observe, however, that women jurors often are less moved by tears or beauty or other emotional appeal than men.

MORE PRODUCTION

France is not producing enough to take care of defense, debt and social improvement requirements. In a statement to the Inquiry Commission, set up to increase production, Premier Camille Chauvignat made this striking statement:
It is essential for the life of the country that production be increased; and that necessity must be placed before all others, for the whole social fabric depends on it.
Manufacturers must do their part by modernizing their plants if it is proved that with existing plants they cannot produce more. If their underproduction is due to a lack of labor, that labor must be found; and if it cannot be found, there must be some change in the conditions of application of the forty-hour law.

There is no such crisis in the United States as France faces today, yet there are many thoughtful citizens who believe that the great need here, for the promotion of prosperity, is increased production. More goods, through more work, and paying more wages, would benefit us all, they say, and this end should be attainable without oppressing labor. In improving conditions, it is well to remember that labor itself needs more goods as much as it needs more leisure.

GAS TAX GAIN

Gasoline taxes collected by the state and federal governments have more than doubled since 1929. The total this year is expected to be $1,000,000,000.
Most of the money goes to improve existing roads or build new ones, making possible more motoring and more taxes. Some of it, in the last few years, has been diverted to meet relief and other emergencies. Protests against this use of gas taxes may prevent more diversion. But it will not solve the problem of meeting the special needs.

It is probably just as well to keep various tax funds separate. If too much money for highways is coming in from the gas taxes, the latter could be lowered. Gas in this country, including the taxes, costs much less than in other countries, yet there is no reason why motorists should pay the relief bills.

TONSILS

It seems only reasonable not to remove tonsils even if large, if they are causing no symptoms of obstruction or infection. Most physicians believe that tonsils should not be removed until a youngster has reached his teens, at which time they gradually begin to disappear, as if Nature felt that they were no longer needed—all diseases of childhood safely passed. The tonsils have a definite duty in filtering out poisons in the blood and destroying harmful organisms.

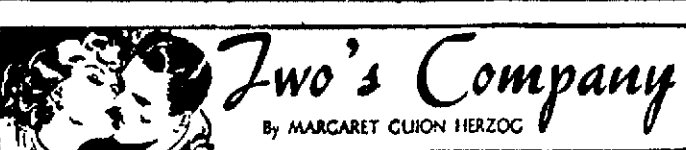

There are, however, some very definite reasons why tonsils and the very similar growth at back of nose—adenoids—should be removed in many cases.
Dr. T. T. Higgins in The Practitioner, states, "Removal of tonsils and adenoids is called for when (1) the enlargement is so great that it interferes with breathing, (2) the tonsils and adenoids are the central point or cause of chronic infection." Some degree of enlargement is considered normal during childhood, and if there are no symptoms of obstruction—breathing through the mouth (mouth open all the time)—the tonsils should not be removed.

"The enlarged tonsils may, however, extend into the throat passage enough to cause coughing, difficulty in swallowing or even vomiting. In such cases the tonsils should be removed."
However when there are no symptoms of obstruction but the tonsils are inflamed it is often a question as to whether or not they are the cause of trouble elsewhere in the body.

When there is a history of repeated sore throat, loss of appetite and energy, digestive disturbances, bronchitis, catarrhal middle ear complications and enlargement of the glands of the neck, it is considered wise to remove tonsils.
Sore throats cause rheumatism and rheumatism causes heart disease. It is therefore better to spare the child the misery of rheumatism and the danger of heart disease by having his tonsils removed, than to leave them in because they may be of help at some future time, in filtering out poisons from the blood and killing harmful organisms. And, as mentioned before, infected tonsils have lost much of their power in preventing ailments and are themselves a constant source of infection.

The Characters
Nina, a nice girl with flaxen hair, lets a young man she has just met at a party, drive her home.
David, the young man, has copper-colored hair, a beagle, an uppy new car and a refreshing nerve. He crashed the party.
Cordelia, Nina's closest friend, gave the party.

Chapter Two
Honey's New Husband

IT DOESN'T take very long to drive from 47th street to 74th at 4:15 in the morning, when you drive like David. As he crossed over to Park, he said wistfully: "Sure you won't have some scrambled egg, or something? You see, I want to put off the evil moment."
"So it's evil... your surprise?"
"Rather."
"Um-m. Well, I really ought to go in, in a second, because Honey—that's my mother—got in from Chicago tonight, on a late train. I couldn't meet her on account of Cordelia's party, and she's just crazy enough to stay awake for me."

But she sat on in the car, after he had drawn up at her door. The beagle puppy put two enormous paws over onto the back of her seat, nosed off David's battered felt hat, and then rasped across Nina's cheek with his long tongue.
"Well! I must say, he has more nerve than you, David. She scrubbed at herself with a handkerchief. "Tell me about him. And why do you call him Beagle? He's awfully large for a beagle, isn't he? And even if he were, you don't call a horse, Horse."

"Don't you? I do. In fact, I call a spade a spade... But I only found him this afternoon, no collar, or anything, and indignantly hungry. Suggest a name, then."
Nina regarded the hound thoughtfully.
"Well, he has little brown spots on him, like buttons. Why not 'Button'?"
"That's cunning."
"It's stupendous. Button he is."

David's Confession
Nina looked at David's nice clean-cut profile. The street lamp shone on his uncovered hair, and she saw that it really was copper—not red at all and straighter than you would have expected.

David gasped: "Nina!" and she ran up the steps.

that color to be... just a suggestion of what his eyes were brown like her own, and clear and honest-looking.
She sighed.
"I really must go in. Spill it, David."
"O. K. Well, as I have no intention of going out of your life, I may as well be frank. I'm a fake and a phony... not to say a heel. I crashed the party tonight."
Nina raised her eyebrows.
"No!" she breathed. "Why, I hadn't the faintest suspicion!"
"I was transacting a little business with a man at the Ritz—saw the festivities—and popped in. And that brings me to the next thing: this isn't my car, at all, Nina. It's a demonstrator. I'm an automobile salesman."

Nina didn't bat an eye.
"Are you a successful one?"
"Not very."
"Are you trying to sell me this little number?" She remembered his pean of praise.
"No... But it's an idea."
She said: "Come round for a cocktail tomorrow."
And he gasped: "Nina!" and grinned; and she ran up the steps.

NEW TRAFFIC CODE

By Police Lieutenants PHINNEY and SIMPSON

Lieutenant Charles Phinney of the Kingston police department in the following safety article calls attention to the need of auto drivers proceeding with caution and with their cars under control in the vicinity of the city's schools:
"Every year there are hundreds of school children killed, mostly because the operators of motor vehicles do not comply with the requirements and regulations set forth in the Vehicle and Traffic Laws. All streets passing schools in this city are properly posted several feet from the school so as to give the operators of vehicles ample time to slow down so as to have their cars under control, in the event one or more of the school children run out into the street, and they will do that so long as there are children. If you can remember enough back you will acknowledge that to be true, these youngsters can see no danger when a baseball, football or other plaything gets away from them, or when they are anxious to get home after school so as to change their clothes and get out into one of the various playgrounds that have been set aside for them where they might have their recreation unmolested. How much better it would be to take a little more time, than to hustle through a school zone and cripple some youngster and be sorry ever after, your time is not that valuable no matter what your business might be. As for rural children, who are transported by omnibus the law requires that a vehicle overtaking or meeting an omnibus used solely for school children, to or from school, which has stopped for receiving or discharging passengers, shall come to a complete stop and then proceed with caution, provided such omnibus carries two signs designating same as a school omnibus, letters on such signs to be at least four inches in height, one on the front and one on the rear of such omnibus. Endeavor to make this a practice, that while the children are in school learning their A.B.C.'s, you motorists learn your A.B.C.'s, which stands for ALWAYS BE CAREFUL, and not have it on your conscience the rest of your life, that had I complied with the provisions of the Law the life of some youngster would not have been destroyed."

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK.—Personal notes of a New Yorker's cuff:
The new form of burlesque in which the strip-dancers fail to strip isn't going so well. "Not enough zip," a disconsolate drummer confides.
There are good shows from which the public is barred in most of the empty theaters on Broadway, but to see them one has to bribe a doorman or sneak in while he isn't looking. These are dozens of dramas being rehearsed for October openings.
Jimmy Dunn, the movie actor, was forced down in a little one-horse town on a recent cross-country flight... Seeking lodging in the local inn for the night, he came upon a banquet for a number of printers and type-setters of the group dragged the actor in and introduced him. Jimmy sat right down, ate dinner with the typesetters, and gave them a half-hour lecture on the evils of Hollywood.
LATER, in a convivial mood, he sent a telegram to some friends, signing it "Col. Roscoe Turner." Two minutes later the local newspaper had been advised that "Col. Turner" was in town, and every available reporter spent the night in an enthusiastic but futile search for him. It is still a mystery how the "Colonel" got away without being cornered.
Branch Rickey, one of the Cardinal farm system, is the most accessible of all big league operators. When in New York his quarters at the Governor Clinton are always a gathering place of sports writers. He calls all newspapermen by their first names.
The "Big Apple," unfortunately, has precipitated a deluge of "fruit" songs, and now the public threatens to be engulfed by a plague of the "Yes, We Have No Bananas" type. Among these warm May Singhi Breen and Peter DeRose, who predict the "fruit cycle," will be "Doing the Alligator Pear," "Grape Vine," "Fuzzy Peach Fuzz," and "Plum, Raspberry, 6c, Sky."

Chubby's Confession

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
"Did you promise someone you wouldn't tell?" asked Rip.
"No," admitted Chubby. They all felt relieved to hear this.
"You promised yourself, then?" asked Honey Bear.
"I suppose so," agreed Chubby. "I don't know that I quite called it that, made any actual promise to myself."
They felt a little more relieved now.
"Then you must, you simply must, tell us," said Willy Nilly. "We want to get back. They're waiting for us, and soon it will be very dark."
"Well," began Chubby.
"Yes," asked Willy Nilly. "First of all, let me tell you how terribly I felt about Rip and that I was the cause of his being so badly stung by the bees."
"That's all been forgiven, forgotten and everything else," barked Rip.
"And then when Sweet Face was watching over you and told me to leave, I felt it was quite right but I was hurt. I knew I wasn't worthy of taking care of you, or watching over you while you rested."
"You felt jealous?" asked Willy Nilly. "Oh dear, dear, that's a dreadful way to feel. You mustn't ever feel that way again. You know how we take turns doing things in Puddle Muddle. There is never any question as to which one should do this—or that."
"You told me to run along like a good cub."
"Yes," said Willy Nilly. "Go on."
"And then I said I'd take a walk when I saw Honey Bear on her way down to see how Rip was feeling and she said that that was a good idea. But that's not really all. "Go on," urged Willy Nilly.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Frank McHugh would have us know he isn't meek, and his favorite food isn't milk toast either. It is beef, or at least Frank was beefing, in a mild sort of way, about his bulky-toasty roles in comedies.

He was just winding up one called "Larger Than Life," in which, after taking it from all possible sources of abuse, he turns and asserts himself. Frank is becoming a veritable turning worm, and he doesn't care for it.

"I personally don't think fellows like that are funny," he said. "I feel sorry for 'em. And after you've played the worm and turned a few times, what else is there for you to do to make it different? A fellow like that can't have any smart lines because in real life he wouldn't think of 'em. All he can do is listen, and have things happen to him. I'm getting tired of it."

Sweet Suers

McHugh, as I said, was pretty mild about it. He hadn't reached that burning stage of indignation which leads to "I'll-be-suing-you-warners. On another stage, behind carefully closed doors, was emoting the studio's latest suer, Kay Francis. She was giving her art to "Return from Limbo," and the bosses, whom she is suing to void her contract because they let Claudette Colbert have "Tovarich," had protected her from the inquisitive and curious.

This is a nice thing about Hollywood. You may fight your legal enemies and have them be so courteous to your behalf—if it happens you're a star and can make money for them. Kay, like a good little girl, was going to work on schedule. Pending decision on her suit, she was not going to be caught refusing to work. Kay, unlike Bette Davis and Ann Dvorak when they sued, didn't walk first.

Here And There

Tamara Geva, of the beautiful legs, isn't showing them in "Manhattan Merry-Go-Round." . . . Wants to get away from the dance star past. . . . Mae West is planning a privately printed biography of herself—in photographs—for distribution to her friends. . . . She'll call it "That's My Story." . . . But I wonder if it'll refer to the story she was stuck with not long ago. . . . about Mr. Wallace, I mean. . . .

Returns from Trip to England

William Robinson, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Robinson of Manor Place, after a wonderful summer vacation spent in England with relatives, has returned. The boy left for England on July 10 on the North German Lloyd Line and returned home on September 20, by the same line. The boy made the ocean trip under the chaperonage of a stewardess of the steamship line.

William reports that he had a great time and thoroughly enjoyed England. He first went to Northamptonshire where he visited his uncles and aunts there, and later left for London where he visited the Tower of London, St. Paul's, and other places of interest in the big city. He said that one of the sights he saw that he will never forget is the royal family as they rode by him in their automobile.

William, or Bill, as he is known to his boy friends, is all boy, and a fine type of sturdy young American boyhood. He enjoyed every minute of his trip abroad, but was just as glad to get back home again and return to School No. 6. He is also a member of the Y. M. C. A., where he takes an active part in all of the boys' activities. Bill is a member of St. John's Church choir, and between his choir duties, his Y. M. C. A. activities and his school studies he is kept busy.

Installation for Two Legion Units

A double installation ceremony of impressive simplicity for the American Legion Auxiliary and the Junior Auxiliary was held on Monday evening in the Memorial building on O'Reilly street.

Because of itinerant changes, Mrs. Ida N. Ashby, state secretary and treasurer, was unable to be present. Her place was ably filled by Mrs. Stanley S. Matthews, past departmental vice president, as installing officer.

The large meeting rooms at the Memorial building were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers, special lighting effects and color combinations arranged by Lester Barth, popular custodian at the Memorial building.

Contrasting with the usual installation was the presence of the members of the Junior Auxiliary in a body. Their regularly elected officers, duplicating those of the senior body, were sworn in, in a double ceremony, promising to carry on with the true spirit of American womanhood. In the name of the American Legion Auxiliary, for God and country.

Mrs. Harry Whitney, retiring president, in relinquishing the gavel of office, submitted a report of her year of stewardship. Her year was one of successful work along the well defined lines laid down by the Constitution of American Legion Auxiliary; of participation in and contributing to the accomplishment of the aims and purposes of the American Legion. In part, she said, "Just a year ago you chose me as your president and in doing so you conferred upon me the greatest honor in the power of this organization. It has been a year always to be remembered, crowded full with experiences with friendships, new and old, adding color and texture to the pattern of my life. I am grateful for the privilege of so serving the American Legion Auxiliary and you have shown your faith in me by your loyalty, your interest in the year's program and your united support of it. The results which have rewarded your efforts are plainly shown in the records of Kingston Post, No. 150, for the years '36-'37. To help carry on our program I have had a splendid staff of officers, each fulfilling her duty for the best of the auxiliary; each committee chairman doing her best in order that we might hold our place in this vast organization; to them, my sincerest thanks."

An interesting report of the Junior's activities during the past year was submitted by Mrs. William McNamee, showing the progress of this enthusiastic young organization. Mrs. McNamee, in closing her report said, "There is one thing that must come to pass before the Juniors will be able to grow to any great extent, and that is that the interest of the mothers must be stimulated. Have them urge their daughters to join. Every year the Legion and the Auxiliary become more important, its ideals more respected. Is it not worth while to bend the twig in this direction so that the tree will grow, having at its heart the principles of good citizenship and a deep love for God and country?"

Following the installation, officers and members were escorted to candle-lit tables, where a delicious supper was served by Mrs. Joseph A. Silis and her committee. Later, music and group singing was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The officers of the senior American Legion Auxiliary, installed were: President, Mrs. Christopher P. Roche; vice presidents, Miss Margaret McManus and Mrs. Ashton Hart; secretary, Mrs. Harry D'Aigle; treasurer, Mrs. Alfred P. Messinger.

Executive committee: Mrs. Harry Whitney, Mrs. Jane McManus and Mrs. Bernice Jensen. Juniors: President, Miss Grace Silis; vice president, Marion Rodell; secretary, Betty Matthews; treasurer, Mary Phelan; chaplain, Virginia Van DeMark; color bearers, Eileen May Kinch and Arlene Scheffel; sergeant-at-arms, Patricia Matthews.

Hopes Conference Will Be Success

proposed were introduced at the opening session. The Pullman porters and the Federation of Teachers asked the A.F.L. to call unity conferences. The printers proposed amendments to the Federal Constitution which would pave the way toward peace.

Other resolutions called for freeing Tom Mooney and the Scottsboro negroes and advocated socialized medicine, a boycott on the Brown Derby restaurants in Hollywood and a Federal maximum hours act with no minimum wage provisions.

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—William Green's threat to crush the CIO was answered with ridicule today by his arch foe and rival labor leader, John L. Lewis.

Green asked for an expulsion of CIO unions at the American Federation of Labor meeting in Denver and promised it would build the greatest fighting machine in labor history to quench the CIO.

"William Green sounds to me like a seven-year-old boy defying his parents," said Lewis, CIO leader, at the convention of Transport Workers Union last night.

He scoffed at the suggestion the CIO would be "quenched." "In what other way will they crush the CIO?" Lewis demanded. "Do they mean they will resort to force? The use of fists, of clubs, or arms? Surely the mild Mr. Green is not going to declare a civil war in America."

It was an "open secret," Lewis said, that some of the other Federation leaders did not like Green and that "some have an open contempt for him."

"When Mr. Green places his own house in order in the American Federation of Labor he will then have greater opportunity to talk about standing with his face to the CIO and crushing that organization."

Denies Charge
Lewis denied Green's charge that he was building the CIO as a nucleus to further his own personal political ambitions.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "I think these utterances of Mr. Green's are nothing more or less than a political wheeze. They are designed to assist Mr. Green in being re-elected as the president of the American Federation of Labor."

Lewis criticized industrial organizations which he said had signed secret agreements with the A. F. of L. to avoid recognizing the CIO.

"The workers have the moral right and the legal right to decide with which organization they will identify themselves," he said. "It is ill behooves either these corporations or the American Federation of Labor to undertake to throw out the will of the workers by making these secret agreements."

League Says Japan Invaded China

which is now a badly battered ruin.

Pootung Attacked.
As the bitter day's fighting for the environs of Shanghai ended in apparent stalemate, Japanese warplanes turned their bombardment at sunset to the Pootung industrial area across the Whangpoo river from the Shanghai bund while the flames from the big cotton warehouses they had just fired in the Chapel sector licked skyward.

Foreign observers were inclined to credit the Japanese claims of mastery of the air. For some time only one Chinese plane has been observed in the Shanghai area and there have been only occasional reports of aerial combat elsewhere.

Chinese spokesmen have not made any claims of aerial activity now for more than a week. Foreign military experts estimate that China's fighting planes numbered only 200 at the beginning of the war and believe that the Japanese may have inflicted heavy blows. The ferocious cat-and-dog fights on land centered at the notorious Oriental cafe, the Tumble Inn, a one-time rendezvous of pickpockets and prostitutes.

Caught in Cross Fire
Using the Tumble Inn as a fortress, the Chinese attacked furiously shortly after noon, mowing down the invading Japanese like ten pins with machine gun fire and hand grenades. Every small house in the area was converted into a Japanese fortress, trapping the Japanese in a network of cross fire.

On the western bank of the battle front which runs from Chapel for 25 miles to the northwest, however, the Japanese were slowly advancing along the Lotien-Kating highway and had pressed forward two of the seven miles to Kating from Lotien.

Despite the apparent Japanese mastery of the air, their bombing planes still suffered from Chinese anti-aircraft defense. One huge Japanese bomber was shot down in flames this afternoon, falling into the heart of the Chinese city of Nantao on the southern border of the French concession.

Stuyvesant Cooks Take to Street

A leak in the refrigeration plant at the Hotel Stuyvesant filled the kitchen with ammonia fumes this noon and drove the cooks out on the street, where they remained until a workman from the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Co., wearing a gas mask, went to the cellar and shut off the machine. There was no damage.

RENO DIVORCES FALL OFF, ARE TOO COSTLY

Reno, Nevada, Oct. 5 (AP)—High court costs and glaring publicity have cut into Reno's divorce business this year, but still 2,013 persons took steps during the first nine months to sever marital ties.

Divorce suits filed here totaled 2,301 during the corresponding period last year and 2,308 at the three-quarter mark in 1935.

Reno attorneys said many persons have established residence here this year, but have fled their suits in neighboring county seats, such as Carson City, where court costs are lower—and publicity less bright.

Among those now in Reno, with announced intentions of seeking divorces when they met the six-week residence requirement are Marcelle Edwards Manville, beautiful fourth wife of Tommy Manville, Jr., New York heir to asbestos millions; and Mrs. Elizabeth Guggenheim, third wife of Col. M. Robert Guggenheim, who settled $1,000,000 on each of his first two wives.

Then there is Mildred Schroeder Robinson, blonde New York show girl, who is seeking a decree proclaiming her no longer the wife of Joseph S. Robinson, New York attorney. Robinson has fled a suit of his own in New York, charging Comedian Bert Lahr with alienation of Mrs. Robinson's affections.

One of the city's most famed residents now is Mrs. Frances Heenan Hynes, the former Peaches of the Edward W. (Daddy) Browning escapades. It is understood she is seeking a divorce from Bernard Hynes, Denver theatre man, whom she married February 24, 1934.

4-Lane Pavement On 9-W Is Laid

The part of old 9-W through and north of Fort Montgomery, past Garrison Pond, which is included in the reconstruction project between Bear Mountain and Highland Falls concrete road, is now a super-highway, with all four lanes of concrete completed and in use.

On the rest of the highway south to Popolopen viaduct, one lane has been completed, and the other three are being progressed. It is apparent that the entire job will be finished within a fortnight. The east (old) bridge of Popolopen has been given its new surfacing. Concrete connection with the west bridge is yet to be effected, but this is only a short stretch.

22 Singer Sewing Machines Stolen

Some time during Monday night the Hudson Undergarment Factory, Inc., on North street, Saugerties, was broken into and 22 Singer sewing machines of various types and models, valued at $2,000, were removed from the plant and loaded onto a truck.

Captain Richter of the Saugerties police force, who is investigating the theft, stated that he picked up a license of registration issued for a New York city machine, which was found near the place where the truck had been backed into the factory yard and the machines loaded onto it.

The Hudson Undergarments Factory, Inc., has been located in Saugerties for about six months, and manufactures ladies' undergarments.

The Saugerties police are working on the theory that the job was pulled off by a New York city outfit, and this afternoon they were still working on the case. District Attorney Cleon B. Murray was also notified of the robbery.

Murdered Pair In Lipstick Case Had Been Drinking

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—While 75 police searched a woods near Queens Village, Long Island, in quest of the weapons in the "scarlet circle" slaying of Lewis Weiss, 20, and his 19-year-old sweetheart, Frances Hajek, Chief toxicologist Dr. Alexander Goettler said today both the youthful victims had been drinking shortly before they were slain.

Dr. Goettler said the girl, a member of the Queens Village Junior League and graduate of Jamaica High School, had imbibed considerably more than Weiss.

"The amount of alcohol in the girl's stomach indicated they were killed shortly after they had been drinking," it was stated at the toxicologist's office, following an analysis of vital organs. "Alcohol is quickly absorbed from the stomach, and there was a considerable amount left."

Dr. Goettler said the girl's brain showed a "two plus" alcoholic content. "Three plus," he said, is considered a state of intoxication, while "two plus" means "under the influence."

Only a trace of alcohol was found in the brain and stomach of Weiss.

The disclosure they had been drinking came in contradiction of the general belief, among the slain couple's friends, that they were non-drinkers.

Eliminate Robbery.

As detectives pressed their search for clues, admittedly without a fingerprint or other tangible evidence of the slayer's identity, Deputy Chief Inspector John J. Ryan said he had "definitely" eliminated robbery as a motive.

He was unable to explain, however, one of the most puzzling facts of the case—how the slayer, if Weiss was shot first, as he apparently was, reached past the girl to kill Weiss at short-range?

Weiss was shot from the right, as he sat in the parked sedan in the thick underbrush of the Holis woodlands. The killer, as police reconstructed the scene, stood on the right hand running board of the car. He must have leaped through the sedan window and reached in front of Miss Hajek.

Two bullets were pumped into Weiss' forehead at such close quarters as to leave powder marks.

Herbert Beach, close friend of the dead youth, said Weiss was so careful of his car that he would never have risked scratching it by driving it through the underbrush where the machine was found last Sunday afternoon.

"Lewis didn't park and get away," said Beach. "And he never willingly drove that car into the woods. He was forced to do it."

"Besides, he knew it was dangerous there. We were both brought up in Queens and we both knew all about 3-X murders of 1930, when a religious fanatic 'bumped off' two fellows who parked their cars with girls in the woods. We never forgot the scare everybody got about that."

MILTON

Milton, Oct. 5.—Last minute details are being added to the elaborate equipment in the addition of the Hudson River Fruit Exchange in order that the grape pulping operations can begin this week. Located in the new addition the equipment can be better operated and a greater output secured. Grapes will start coming in this week in large quantities and already many growers have signified their intention of supplying the exchange. Growers will be paid $37 per ton for Concord grapes and grapes must be ripe. The grape juice and pulp will be barreled and shipped to a Brooklyn preserver. Frank Holland will operate the plant. Broadway: "Dead End." A saga of the bitterness of life, of its unfairness, its sorrows and its fleeting joys is to be seen on the Broadway screen in one of the finest motion pictures of the year. A Broadway success last year, it has been transformed into screen material with even greater effectiveness and the Sidney Kinsley play under Norman Bel Geddes' production and William Wyler's direction is a masterpiece in realism. The scene is laid on a dead end street in New York City. In this shabby spot young children play in the dirty street and swim in the dirty river water. They learn to ideal, to fight, to have no trust in anyone and to grab what they can from existence. The show is a picture of vivid contrasts, of great wealth and utter poverty, of crime and of law and order, of violence and weakness. Sylvia Sidney and Joel McCrea are starred and a line supporting cast includes Humphrey Bogart, Allen Jenkins, Wendy Barrie and Claire Trevor.

Kingston: "The Great Gambini." "DANGER and MYSTERY" pose the first feature at the Kingston. The story of a magician who uses his powers to no good, Akim Tamiroff, John Trent and Marjorie Marsh are featured. "Devil's Saddle Legion" stars the singing Dick Foran in a blood and thunder western thriller of a man who tracks down several killers against human odds. Anne Nagel is also in the cast.

Orpheum: "The Go Getter." Here is the story of a man who refused to know the meaning of failure. Married and a permanent cripple, he overcomes his pessimism and rises to a great success in business and also wins the love of a girl. The cast stars George Brent and Frances Anita Lane, Charles Winger, John Eldridge and Henry O'Neil.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "Flight from Glory." A little club of airplane flyers who have cracked up, killed passengers or wrecked lives in the performance of duty, have banded together in a remote section of the globe in the feature picture at the Broadway with Chester Morris starred and helped along by Whitney Bourne, Van Hefflin and Onslow Stevens. It's all about a group of men whose nerves are shattered and broken and how they find relief from the fear that grips them in the plot structure of the story. An RKO-Radio picture, directed by Lew Landers.

Kingston: "Borneo" and "The Women Men Marry." The last wild animal picture taken by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson before Mr. Johnson's unfortunate death is by far the best of the Johnson production picture and it takes its audience into the wilds of Borneo with amazing camera results. "The Women Men Marry" is the other attraction with George Murphy and Josephine Hutchinson.

Orpheum: "On the Avenue" and "Gold Racket." Dick Powell sings, Madeline Carroll looks beautiful and the Ritz Brothers.

Movie Of The Month: Coons Picks 'Stage Door'; Acclaims Hepburn, Rogers

Robbin Coons, Hollywood correspondent for The Associated Press Feature Service and The Freeman is an expert on filmdom's affairs. From his studies of the September previews, he herewith presents the movie-of-the-month, with reasons.

By ROBBIN COONS
(AP Feature Service Writer)

Hollywood—Outstanding recent movies have been of such varied types that selection of a "movie of the month" is more than ordinarily difficult.

There have been, three films that would have justified selection because of merits of production, direction, acting and entertainment. I refer to "The Prisoner of Zenda," a pure romance; to "First Lady," a fairly literal translation of a stage hit; and to "Stage

CHECK-UP
Last month's best: "Dead End" (Goldwyn), starring Joel McCrea, Sylvia Sydney, Humphrey Bogart, directed by William Wyler.

This Month's Runners-Up: "Prisoner of Zenda" (Selznick-International), starring Ronald Colman; directed by John Cromwell; "First Lady" (Warner Bros.), starring Kay Francis, directed by Stanley Logan.

Most interesting musical: "100 Men and a Girl" (Universal), starring Deanna Durbin, with Adolphe Menjou, Leopold Stokowski, directed by Henry Koster.

Star-of-the-Month: Hepburn and Rogers in "Stage Door."

THE FIZZLING OF A CLASH
When Ginger Rogers (in striped robe) and Katharine Hepburn were cast as co-stars in "Stage Door," everyone expected a battle of temperaments. Perhaps the girls wouldn't have fought under any circumstances, anyway, with Gregory LaCava directing, the expected battle did not come off. LaCava, chatting with the girls here, handles players so easily that they never suspect he is giving them the psychological Kaufman, and much of it was rewritten on the set under LaCava's supervision. This is one picture which argues well for that method.

"Stage Door" takes us inside a theatrical boarding house in New York, where girls of beauty and talent, and girls of neither, share the ambition to crash footlight fame.

The real actress among the girls living here is Kay Hamilton (Andrea Leeds), who has set her heart on a certain role in a play to be produced by Tony Powell (Adolphe Menjou). Jean (Ginger Rogers) is a truculent, good-hearted dancing girl. Terry (Katharine Hepburn) is a rich girl who lives at the club for "atmosphere" while trying to become

Father As Angel
Terry is intelligent, clever, and warm-hearted. Unknown to her, her father has angloed Powell's play on condition Terry be starred. So she gets the role Kay Hamilton was to have played. In rehearsal she is wooden. On her opening night she is terror-stricken.

Jean—already hating her because she considers Terry has played her dirt—comes to her dressing room with the news that Kay Hamilton has committed the suicide. Emotionally wrecked by this news, Terry goes on and gives a triumphant performance.

There is little to choose between the performance of Hepburn and Rogers. The latter, slice of the heart.

scores dramatically and comically, (without benefit of Astaire), and the former recaptures the electric force and skill that made her earlier vehicles notable.

Old Reliable Menjou
Miss Leeds, a comparative newcomer, is star material, and Lucille Ball registers more effectively than ever before in comedy. Constance Collier, Franklin Pangborn and Phyllis Kennedy (the maid) contribute to the film's playing along with a large group of actors.

However, the film is mainly LaCava's. He has made "Stage Door" more than a slice of life; it is a slice of the heart.

Baseball's Big Businessmen Are Biggest Winners Of '37: They Make 'Biggest Story' Behind The World Series

By GARDNER SOULE
(AP) Feature Service Writer

Attendance at the 1937 World Series broke all records for a 6-game post-season classic. The New York teams drew 369,924 persons and $1,294,399. The largest crowd in series history, 66,669 spectators, saw the fourth game.

From figures such as these (most baseball statistics are kept secret by the clubs) is gleaned the biggest story behind the 1937 World Series.

The comeback of baseball. The comeback, from the depths of the depression, of the game that writers predicted was on its way out. The comeback of baseball to a seemingly impregnable position as America's No. 1 spectator sport.

The year 1936 was good. Eight million persons paid to see big league teams play. Of the 16 big league teams, nine made money, two lost, one broke even. Four won't talk.

The year 1937 was better. Why? Well, baseball's big businessmen—the owners—believe the fans want, in order: (1) Winners; (2) Close finishes; (3) personalities.

Did the fans get them? Look at the slugging New York Yankees. Consider the hairline finish in the National League. Ponder the rosters of most big league clubs.

Who is behind the renaissance of baseball? Obviously, the big businessmen. Most of them are fans. Most have independent fortunes.

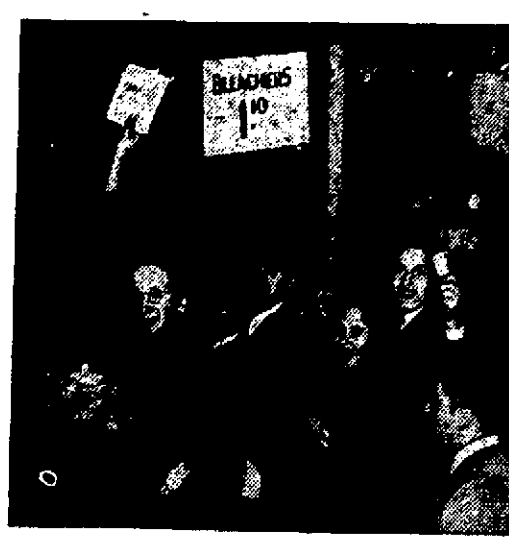

What expenses do these businessmen meet? Salaries. For the major leagues: $3,200,000 this season; for the Yankees, costliest team, $370,000; for Lou Gehrig, highest-priced player, $36,000.

For other expenses, take the '36 Chicago Cubs. Taxes: $74,000. Supplies, equipment, travel, publicity: $153,000. Spring training: $25,000.

THE FACTORIES ...

Used by baseball's big businessmen for manufacturing thrills are 15 huge stadia. (Both St. Louis teams use the same playing field.) The $3,000,000 Yankee Stadium in New York City is the largest and costliest. It has been home to six pennant winners, five world championship teams. Near it on a way trains. Transportation companies keep in touch with the office to know how many extra cars to have on hand.

THE CUSTOMERS ...

Of baseball's businessmen are the fans; the businessmen themselves, who buy players from one another; the radio men. In the ticket line, fans argue the game.

THE SIDELINE ...

Of the businessmen is feeding the fans. Real rooters, the fans eat and watch at once. In a good year fans at one park will consume: 457,000 hot dogs; 470,000 bottles of pop; 267,000 bags of peanuts.

THE ADVERTISING ...

Comes from the sports pages. And free list, including youngsters who will pay later. Note the crossed fingers.

THE BOSS ...

Of the players is the team manager. For running the team, enforcing discipline, deciding lineups, the Yanks' Joe McCarthy gets $37,500 a year.

THE BIG BOSS ...

Of all the baseball bosses is the Commissioner of Baseball. Kenesaw Mountain Landis since 1921 has had the final say in all quarrels. For being dictator of the national game, he gets $40,000.

THE AGENTS ...

Of the businessmen are such boys as the one shown here. They take 18 cents from the average fan daily—10 cents clear profit.

Giants' Money Passed Around In N. Y. for Series

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—The New York Giants, champions of the National League, took care of everybody from Manager Bill Terry down to the policeman stationed at the dressing room door when they split their share of the world series money today.

They divided their end of the receipts into 27 full shares and gave part shares and stipulated amounts to nine others. In addition Terry said he would take care of Pitcher Bill Lohrman out of his pocket. Lohrman was purchased from the Baltimore Orioles late in the season and won his only start for the Giants.

In addition to the 22 players and Terry, full shares were voted to Coaches Adolf Luque and Pancho Snyder, William Schaefer, trainer, and Eddie Brannick, club secretary. Blondy Ryan, shortstop, who was brought up in mid-season, was given a half share and Pitcher Don Brennan a quarter share.

Pitcher Walter Brown and Outfielder Phil Weintraub, both late season acquisitions to the club, were given $500 each along with Ed Logan, assistant club house attendant, and Tom Troy, bath-boy.

Henry Fabian, ground keeper, and Fred Club, club house attendant, were voted $1,000 each. The policeman, John Quinn, came in for $100.

Following the meeting in the club house, Terry announced that Hank Leiber would be in center field and bat in clean-up position if the Yankees start Lefty Gomez on the mound in the first game Wednesday.

Against right-handed pitching, Lou Chiozza will be in center with Jimmy Ripple batting in the clean-up spot.

Holyoke, Mass.—Mickey Makar, 145, Bayonne, N. J., stopped Dave Bungy, 148, New York. (7); Red Rutches, 125, Hartford, Conn., outpooled Bobby Martinez, 125-1/2, Albany, N. Y., (6).

Expect 50,000 At World Series Opening Game

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Giants and the Yankees, both fit and both confident they hold a fistful of aces, hold their final workouts early this afternoon, and at 1:30 p. m. (EST) tomorrow they smack into each other in the second straight "Subway Series."

Two more substantial, complacent ball clubs probably never met in a World Series since the annual fall follies were inaugurated in 1903. Neither appears to be unduly excited nor awed, but, just the same, the series promises to be hard-fought and exciting every foot of the way.

The battle lines are definitely drawn, pending a last-minute change by Manager Terry of the Giants or Joe McCarthy of the Yanks. Carl Hubbell, the Oklahoma farmer, will try to win his third straight series opener for the Giants, and Vernon (El Goofy) Gomez, another leftist, will toll for the Yanks.

They are perhaps the leading southpaws in the game; and the prospect of a thrilling duel between them has led optimistic club officials to hope to break the world series attendance record of 66,669 set at the Stadium a year ago. Indications today, however, were that the opening day attendance would not be much more than 50,000.

Papa DiMaggio Passed Around In N. Y. for Series

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—The proudest and most excited man in this big city today was an old, weatherbeaten salt who traveled clear across the continent to see a guy named Joe play in the World Series.

His suitcase crammed with mama's famous cookies, cake and several bottles of wine, Joseph DiMaggio, Sr., made his first trip to New York in 41 years with only one bit of sightseeing on his mind. "That," he said, "is to see my boy Giuseppe hit a home run against the Giants."

If you've ever seen an aged father glow over the exploits of a son, then you've got the picture of Papa DiMaggio. In more than 25 years of fishing off San Francisco Bay, he's had more than his share of thrills but to come to New York, all expenses paid, to see Giuseppe strid his stuff before thousands of cheering fans tops papa's wildest dreams.

Papa arrived yesterday morning accompanied by his third son, Dominic, star outfielder of the San Francisco Seals. Joe met them at the station, dined himself on the cookies and cake, and then took them out to Yankee Stadium for the series practice.

NEW YORK GIANTS

Emerson, Severino, And Triola Against New York Sluggers

Comments from boxing fans to look over the bill of scraps Friday's card of Mayor's International Committee bouts at the Auditorium indicate there will be a full house for the triple feature card.

Three headline bouts top the card, starring three of the Adirondack A. A. U's best punchers against a trio of New York amateur stars. The bouts are: Buddy Emerson, St. Remy, vs. George Monturris, New York; Joe Triola, Albany, vs. Eddie Gomoka, New York; and Mario Severino, Schenectady, vs. Joe Prince, New York. Emerson has campaigned long enough so that the fans know his record as well as the sports writers, and Monturris, his opponent, gave the customers the mayor's prize a real example of slugging at Friday.

This little Greek whirlwind had a knockout when the left handed boxer recovered to send home a blarney wallop that put Monturris away for the count.

George asked for another shot at Triola this week, but it was deemed wise to match him with Emerson. Buddy, too, is after another crack at the Albanian who defeated him in a thrilling brawl several weeks ago.

Tex Slater, handler of Monturris, believes that the Greek and Emerson ought to put up one of the best slugfests ever seen in the Auditorium. "I pick my man to win," he said, "because I think he's too fast for Emerson."

"I've had 'em fast before, and I've had 'em down to a walk," said Slater, "and I think I can take this Monturris."

Emerson has fought them all, including Lou Ambers, champion of the world. He and the light-weight kingpin slugged it out here when the Herkimer Hurricane was campaigning as an amateur.

Gomoka a Puncher
"In facing Gomoka, Triola will feel how it is to bounce on the canvas," informed Slater. "I have a great deal of respect for Triola, but Gomoka punches too hard and is too tough. I'm not asking you to take my word, consider his record."

"In his past 20 bouts, Gomoka has never failed to put his man on the floor and he has never been down himself, although he has been away as high as nine pounds in weight."

"Concerning Mario Severino's opponent, Slater said, 'Watch him, if your eyes can follow his punching. Severino is no example of slow motion, I know, but he'll have to be better than he was in his bout with Billy Scheuchrich if he is going to hold his own with our miniature Joe Louis.'"

Babe Smith, Slater's partner in training the New Yorkers, and an ex-fighter himself, chimed in with, "Our little Joe has scored nine knockouts in his last 11 fights, and when I say knockouts I mean his opponents were out cold."

Prince has only one defeat on his record. He lost a decision to Norman Leonard, Golden Gloves champion, then came back to take the duke in a return match.

Kingston's Jess Caprotti will make his debut in the five round class against Al Turko of New York, a leather slinger who keeps moving in and tossing punches from going to go.

In addition to the four five rounders, there will be three three's, making up a card of seven scraps.

Birdseye View Of Sports Events

By EDDIE RHETZ.

New York, Oct. 3 (AP).—Looks like Gomez and Hubbell in the opener... St. Louis Cardinals have signed a young pitcher named Jack Card from Ogden, Utah. His first pitching effort was a no run, no hit and 23 batters whiffed... Sacramento will be glad to see him next spring... Ossie Solem of Syracuse shares honors with Tiny Thornhill of Stanford as the biggest football coach in the biz. Ossie stands six foot four, and tips the old beam at 235... Doesn't smoke, chew or swear (quite a guy) and the only way his boys can tell he's on edge is by a different pitch in his voice.

McBee Pitt's opponents can chuckle this one off. When the Panthers made a short jump to Morgantown to play West Virginia, two guys who played 20 minutes each in the Rose Bowl last January weren't considered good enough to go. Also, another boy who played in the 1935 Rose Bowl game, can't make the traveling squad now. And Jack Sutherland continues to bowl (with five loaves of bread under each arm). Oh, Oh... That young bussey, now running high wild for Louisiana State, received his first national recognition in this column two years ago.

Highest paid athlete in the world series will be Jack Saltz-gaver, Yankee utility infielder. He has been at bat only 11 times this season, but will get a full share of the series loot.

A penny for Bernie Bierman's thoughts... When the family of Lyle Rockenbach, Michigan State guard, attends a football game, they reserve an entire section. Lyle has six brothers and seven sisters, plus a couple of parents, aunts, uncles, etc. Coach Charlie Bachman, who issues the "comps," has asked the Rockenbachs to come in installments. The walls of the dressing room used by the Green Bay Packers are plastered with pep signs... Owner Phil Belber has 80 naps campaigning at Rockingham Park. A few years ago he started with a boss named Grand Bay... It was a few naps and Phil parlayed the cash into more naps. Now owns 20 and trains 10 others.

Jimmie Thompson, an old pal of sports writing days in sunny Carolina, takes office as city councilman at Greenville, S. C., tonight... Besides his civic duties, Jimmie keeps busy working as reporter for the Greenville Piedmont, doing a daily sports broadcast, serving as publicity director for Furman University and as treasurer of the Southern Sports Writers Association. And after hours plays the meanest game of poker in South Carolina.

Field Day, Shoot of Federated Clubs To Be Held Sunday

The annual field day and trap shoot of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county will be held on Sunday, October 10, on the grounds of the Ulster County Gun Club, one mile out of Kingston on the road to the Ashokan reservoir.

Three matches will be contested and are open to all club members who are residents of Ulster county. These matches are the "Handicap Team Race," "Scratch Team Race," and the "Individual Championship Race." The Roundout Valley Rod and Gun Club is the present holder of the cup for the Handicap Race and the Ulster County Rod and Gun Club is the holder of the cup for the Scratch Race. Frank Van Gonsle is the present holder of the individual championship, having won it from Jack Lowther of Saugerties, the former champion. No individual has been able so far to hold this cup two consecutive years and the competition for this cup will be particularly keen this year, as several contestants have expressed their intention of taking it away from Frank.

The competition for the team races will also be more keenly contested this year than in previous years. Eleven teams have already declared their intention of entering these races and there is a possibility that a dark horse will steal a march on the older teams who have been striving for the winning position in these races in former years.

New classifications have been given to many of the shooters and this should help to increase the interest of these shooters and help them to give some of the crack shots a real battle for the championships. The "Showroom System of Handicapping" which has been successfully used in previous years will again be used this year. This system of handicapping gives all an equal chance and will make the scores of the weaker shooters nearly on a par with the better shots.

The team races will start promptly at 11 a. m. and the individual championship immediately after the team races. The traps will be open in plenty of time for practice before the matches for those who desire to do so before the matches.

A number of handsome prizes have already been donated and the committee in charge believes that this will be the biggest Field Day ever held by the Federation.

Joliet Guards on Watch for Unrest
Joliet, Ill., Oct. 5 (AP)—An augmented force of armed guards maintained watch on the Stateville Prison population today for manifestations of unrest that sent 1,000 felons on a hunger strike.

Approximately 3,000 inmates were locked in their cells "until the strike ends." Others—about 400—were permitted out of cells to do necessary tasks.

Warden Joseph E. Ragen attributed the hunger strike to resentment against the State Board of Pardon and Paroles. The board extended clemency to only three of 274 applicants for parole in September, he said.

The felon's sullen attitude, Warden Ragen said, had developed into open hostility when 200 inmates of cellhouse "E" refused to eat breakfast in the dining room yesterday. They were ordered confined to their cells. At the noon meal several hundred others joined the strike.

Approximately 1,000 prisoners refused to eat supper.

Friday Is First Registration Day
Friday and Saturday are the first two days of registration of voters for the November election, and the polls will be open at 10 o'clock in the morning and remain open until 10 o'clock in the evening. If you do not register you cannot vote. Owing to the fact that the city is having a mayoralty contest this year it is expected that an unusually large registration of voters will be recorded. As usual there will be four days of registration here.

Insurgent Armies Make Advances
Hondare, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Oct. 5 (AP)—Spanish insurgent columns, moving through rain and mist on the Austrian front, occupied a hill and lake region near Covadonga today, consolidating their bases for the push on Gijon, some 30 air miles to the northwest.

The Daily Communique from insurgent headquarters said the troops took the entire Sierra Covadonga, a chain of peaks ringing the mountain town, and occupied the shores of Lake Enol directly to its south.

The government forces on the Aragon front, in Northeast Spain, rushed work on fortifications to meet a threatened insurgent offensive while government airmen bombed insurgent positions at Haesca.

MUSSOLINI AND HITLER RECEIVE OVATION

Mussolini was given a thunderous reception when he arrived in Munich September 25, to witness a parade of some 100,000 guards and police held in his honor. The Italian Dictator is shown with the German Fuehrer as they stood together on the rostrum during the parade.

Chaos After War
Says President

the sanctity of international treaties and the maintenance of international morality be restored.

Leading up to his theme, the President told of his trip across the continent and back. He said he had witnessed many evidences of the result of "common sense cooperation" and of happiness, security and peace and could not help contrasting all that with "very different scenes in the other parts of the world."

"It is because the people of the United States," he said, "under modern conditions must, for the sake of their own future, give thought to the rest of the world, that I, as the responsible executive head of the nation, have chosen this great inland city and this gala occasion to speak to you on a subject of definite national importance."

Before indicating aggressors for violations of the covenant of the League of Nations, the President told of his trip across the continent and back. He said he had witnessed many evidences of the result of "common sense cooperation" and of happiness, security and peace and could not help contrasting all that with "very different scenes in the other parts of the world."

"They seek the removal of barriers against trade. They want to exert themselves in industry, in agriculture and in business, that they may increase their wealth through the production of wealth producing goods rather than striving to procure military planes and bombs and machine guns and cannon for the destruction of human lives and useful property."

Huge Sums to Arm

He said aggressor nations and those fearing acts of aggression today were spending from 30 to 50 per cent of their income for armaments, as compared with 11 or 12 per cent by the United States.

The peace of 90 per cent of the world's population was being threatened by the other 10 per cent, he said at another point.

"Surely," he continued, "the 90 per cent who want to live in peace under law and in accordance with moral standards that have received almost universal acceptance through the centuries, can and must find some way to make their will prevail."

Quoting from the "Lost Horizon," in which James Hilton prophesied a day when "men, evasive in the technique of homicide, will rage so hotly over the world that every precious thing will be in danger," he declared.

"If those things come to pass in other parts of the world, let no one imagine that America will escape, that it may expect mercy,

DUKE AND WALLY MAY VISIT U. S.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor may visit the United States in the near future to allow the Duke to study modern housing and working conditions. Here is the famous couple (Duke second from left) as they chatted to English friends at the Munich railroad station from where they were enroute to Paris. It was in Paris that the Duke made the announcement of his intended visit.

League Unit Asks
Washington Pact
Signers for Action

Geneva, Oct. 5 (AP)—The drafting committee of the League advisory group on the Sino-Japanese conflict agreed today that signatories of the nine-power treaty, including the United States, should be "invited" to meet at the earliest possible moment to examine the Far Eastern situation.

It was understood also that concessions were made to a Chinese demand that the nine-power conference invitation should not be the only action taken. The Chinese representatives insisted the League also should recognize its obligation to act.

A draft of the proposals is to be submitted later to the sub-committee of thirteen, and if approved it will be presented to the full advisory committee which in turn would report to the league assembly.

The effort to call together the nine powers earlier had been snaggled by determined Chinese and Russian opposition.

The Chinese delegation, solidly supported by their Russian allies, was learned to have opposed the British project for convocation of the signatories of the Washington Treaty guaranteeing China's territorial integrity, unless the League of Nations continues its study of charges accusing Japan as an aggressor nation.

Russo-Chinese Position

The position taken by China and Russia was based on the hope of ultimate League measures to aid China as a victim of aggression. The particular articles invoked by China in her charge against Japan were ten and eleven of the League Covenant which bind the League to take measures to preserve the territorial integrity of members against aggression.

(Dispatches from Washington for some time have indicated the United States was engaged in secret studies with other powers to see if the nine-power pact could not be used to restore peace in China.)

(The United States and Great Britain were known to have previously begun exchanging information on their views and diplomatic maneuvers in the Far Eastern crisis, a move which might have strengthened the British decision to invoke the terms of the pact.)

The factual investigation by the great powers at Geneva was said to have resulted in an impression that Japan's military action in China was "unjustified" by the incidents leading up to it.

Three Main Points.

The three main points of the sub-committee's conclusions were listed as an indictment of Japan for:

1. "Invasion" of China by Japanese troops;
2. Bombardment of the Chinese civil population contrary to the rules of warfare;
3. "Impeding" normal Chinese commerce by a naval blockade of the China coast.

Great Britain's influence was thought to be responsible for the sudden stiffening of the league attitude against Japan in the Far Eastern conflict. One delegate indicated mounting world opinion would induce the league to adopt stringent measures to curb Japan for what the committee decided was an invasion of China.

The nine-power pact, signed in Washington in 1922, binds the signatories to meet at the call of any one of them that believes a situation has arisen which "involves the applications" of the treaty.

The United States, Great Britain, Japan, France, Italy, China, the Netherlands, Belgium and Portugal are bound by the pact to preserve the "open door" of commercial opportunity there.

Dairy herds which are in sound health and from which the low producing and unprofitable cows have been discarded, are the most profitable to present higher beef prices should induce many herd owners to dispose of animals which are liabilities, Professor Bradt says.
